

Backend Coding Test

Design and implement a RESTful API which returns the hourly average speed of a car based on the input file.

Requirements:

1. You should use C#
2. Keep it simple eg. no authentication needed
3. Everything should run in memory (no database is needed)
4. Proof with tests that the API works as expected